

NBC's mind-boggling decision to tape delay Olympic coverage

By Henry Blodget, The Wire

It didn't seem possible that it would happen again.

It didn't seem possible that, in the middle of a national holiday, NBC would be so self-serving that it would risk infuriating millions of viewers by tape-delaying one of the most popular events at the Winter Olympics—the Men's Downhill.

Read the whole story