

Cohee delves into plans for Fresno-area ski resort

By Marek Warszawski, Fresno Bee

Last (month), Tim Cohee officially became the new owner/operator of China Peak (formerly Sierra Summit), purchasing the Huntington Lake ski resort for $3.8 million.

A ski industry veteran, Cohee spent the past 17 years as a senior executive at Kirkwood Mountain Resort near Lake Tahoe, including 13 as president and general manager. His résumé also includes stops at Snow Summit (the previous owner of Sierra Summit), Heavenly Valley and Sunday River in Maine.

Cohee recently sat down for a lengthy interview to detail his plans for China Peak.
