

What advice do you have for people graduating from high school or college this year?