

If you had the chance to speak with a presidential contender, what would you say?