

Easter egg hunt at Sugar Bowl could mean free skiing

Sugar Bowl Resort will host its annual Golden Egg Hunt on Easter Sunday.

Colored eggs will be hidden throughout the resort and on the mountain; each containing festive Easter candies and clues to the location of the coveted Golden Egg.

The Easter Bunny will be skiing around the mountain, handing out candy, taking photos with guests and will have additional clues to the location of the Golden Egg. The guest who claims the Golden Egg wins a 2012-13 mid-week season pass.
