

3-day workshop in Tahoe for divorced people

Divorced people suffer common problems – from financial issues to re-entering the dating world to helping their kids heal after divorce. And an event happening at Lake Tahoe will show divorced people how they can solve all those challenges.

Rebuilding Your Life After Divorce Mountain Retreat is Sept. 15-17 at Granlibakken Resort in Tahoe City.

The retreat will bring together 15 authors and experts from around Reno and the country, who will show divorced people how to:

- Overcome nervousness over dating again.
- Get back on your financial feet.
- Let go of post-divorce anger and sadness.
- Avoid the losers and meet the good ones when venturing back out into the dating world.
- Use four questions to get your child to cooperate with your every request.
- Begin the steps necessary if you're as unhappy with your job or career as you were with your marriage.
- Feel whole again now that you're a single person instead of part of a couple.

Use code Local for $200 off the retreat fee through Aug. 25. To sign up, go online.
