

Lights coming back on in Incline Village

Updated Nov. 30 10:20pm: NV Energy says power has been restored to roughly 3,900 customers affected by the power outage in the Incline Village area. Crews are still trying to repair the downed line believed to be the cause. They were able to reroute the power to that area temporarily.

NV Energy reports all of Incline Village is suffering a power outage.

The outage affects just Incline, not the nearby towns.

Workers have not yet determined the cause of the outage but hope it is a small, isolated problem.

There is no estimated time of power restoration for Incline Village.
