

Wescott, Holland take snowboard cross title

By USSA

TELLURIDE, Colo. – Olympic champion Seth Wescott (Sugarloaf, Maine) and X Games champ Nate Holland (Squaw Valley) combined to take the team SBX title at the Paul Mitchell Progression Session in Telluride on Dec. 15.

It was the second straight weekend U.S. Snowboarding has triumphed in a FIS Snowboarding World Cup team event, with Holland combining with Hagen Kearney (Telluride) last weekend in Austria. For Wescott, it was a victory sweep after winning the USANA Snowboardcross Cup on Friday.

Canada's Dominique Maltais and Maelle Ricker clinched their first victory in a team race.
