

Fundraiser helps potential Paralympians train in Tahoe

Divided Sky in Meyers is hosting a fundraiser for Tahoe Adaptive Competition Center on Jan. 12.

The money raised will help subsidize the three-day rider camp at the end of the month at Sierra-at-Tahoe. The snowboarders are from the U.S. and other countries who have hopes of making it to the 2014 Paralympics Games in Sochi, Russia.

The event starts at 7pm.

A disc jockey will provide music and merchandise will be for sale. There is not cost to be part of the fun, but donations are accepted and raffle tickets will be sold.
