

Kiwanis pays for STHS concussion tests

Kiwanis Club of Lake Tahoe wrote a $500 check for concussion impact testing for South Tahoe High School athletes.

Every athlete in every school sport is given this baseline test and then retested every two years, or sooner if they are injured.

Typically the school will test 250 students per year. Because of this donation, Kiwanis Club of Lake Tahoe is ensuring all students are tested at no charge.

Visit the Kiwanis website for ways to participate in this and other community programs.