

Workshop focuses on creating poetry

Do you want to write poetry, but don't know where to start? Do you write poetry, but don't feel you are as creative as you could be?

Learn new ways to approach language and craft in your writing of any genre in a workshop offered by Tangled Roots Writing in Truckee.

Focus on poetry through guiding prompts, readings, and discussion. Even if you don't "get" poetry, you will come away with ideas for your writing and process.

Karen Terrey is the instructor.

Tea and chocolate are provided during the $40 workshop on May 2 from 5:30-8:30pm.

For more information, call (530) 386.3901.