

Californians expected to travel for Turkey Day

Expect the roads in California to be about as congested as they were last Thanksgiving.

Word from AAA is there will be a 0.04 percent decline in the number of people traveling Nov. 28-Dec. 1 for the four-day holiday. This equates to about 5.1 million people traveling 50 miles or more. Most of those will be on the roads – 4.4 million.

Others will be getting to their destinations by plane, train or boat.
