

It's just about time to fall back an hour

Don't forget to set your clocks back an hour tonight before you go to bed.

At 2am Nov. 3 it's time to return to standard time.

The whole reason for this, according to the federal government, is energy and fuel savings.

Daylight saving time returns March 9.