

Letter: Heavenly works the Bread & Broth line

To the community,

In honor of St. Patrick's day, members of Heavenly Mountain Resort's mountain operations wore green and served corn beef and cabbage to Bread & Broth's dinner guests on March 17.

Thanks to the Adopt A Day sponsorship by Heavenly Mountain Resort and the generous donation of the corn beef by the Knights of Columbus, all those who attended the dinner at Grace Hall got a taste of the customary Irish dinner.

Representing Heavenly's mountain operations were Dave Hager, snowmaking manager; Todd Rudis, grooming manager; Kyle Henderson, grooming supervisor; and Mike Thomas, terrain park manager.

They were an energetic crew. Hager described their involvement as an "experience of a lifetime and a chance to pay it back." Thomas also added that it was "eye-opening to see this type of outreach in the community."

Bread & Broth acknowledges that the meal service we offer to the community can only be realized by the generosity of our many donor and sponsors. Heavenly Mountain Resort and their employees are monthly participants in B&B's Adopt A Day of Nourishment program and their involvement in the program is greatly appreciated.
