

Concert to bring world sounds to the stage

Acclaimed performers from Los Angeles, Santa Cruz, Bay Area and Tahoe-Reno region will perform as the sun goes down during Trails and Vistas World Concert at Sand Harbor on Sept. 6.

Performers include SambaDá, Scarlet Rivera, flutist Ann Licater, 30-piece San Jose State University Symphony Orchestra, Emily Tessmer and Kurt Beckering.

The evening will also include InnerRhythms Dance Theatre and aerialists from Tahoe FLOW Arts Studio. Artist Susie Alexander will be doing several performance paintings inspired by the evening's music.

World Concert is a fundraiser for Trails & Vistas, a Truckee nonprofit organization that produces creative art experiences in nature. This year Trails & Vistas will present art hikes at Spooner Lake on Sept. 6-7 as well as Art in Nature field trips for more than 300 third-grade students.

World Concert tickets start at $23. They are available through the Shakespeare Festival Box Office (948 Incline Way in Incline Village, or call 800. 747.4697 or go online. The concert is at 6:30pm, gates open at 5:30pm.
