

Then and now: Evolution of Crescent V

Perry Boys' Smorgy
Photo/Private Collection

Perry Boys' Smorgy in the 1960s offered cafeteria-style lunch for $1.15 and dinner for $1.75 in the Crescent V Center near the state line.

Next door to the right was Raley's Supermarket and Lawrence's Department Store.

Modern day businesses.
Photo/Bill Kingman

That same corner location today offers pizza and art in the remodeled and renamed Village Center.

Sizzler left in 2003.
Photo/Bill Kingman

Years after Perry Boys, Sizzler Restaurant also occupied that corner in 2003, just prior to the remodeling of the center.

– Bill Kingman