

Puppet show for kids in Genoa

Douglas County Public Library will present a special program at Mormon Station State Historic Park on July 23 at 10:30am.

Guest puppeteer Beth Hyland will team up with Captain Underpants and Superman to share fables and tales that prove there is truly a hero in each of us.

Discover a hero in "The Lion and the Mouse," "The Rooster's Diamond Button," and "Jack and the Beanstalk." There will be chaotic visits from the Mad Scientist Dr. Diaper, the Evil Professor Poopypants and Ferocious Talking Toilets.

Following the puppet show, children will make a craft.

All ages are welcome.

Mormon Station is located on the corner of Main Street and Genoa Lane in Genoa. Meet under the trees. For more info, call 775.782.9841.
