

Man arrested in Colo. chairlift pushing case

By Denver Post

Pitkin County authorities have arrested a 31-year-old man on suspicion of pushing a snowboarder off a chairlift last month at Aspen Highlands.

Thomas Proesel is accused in the case of attempted second-degree assault, a felony, and reckless endangerment. Records show he appeared in court Thursday for an advisement.

Proesel's bond was set at $10,000. He is due back before a judge on March 7 to be arraigned.

Read the whole story