

Nevada revamps its welcome signs

By Cy Ryan, Las Vegas Sun

CARSON CITY – Nevada's welcome signs that have greeted highway motorists at state-border entry points for about two decades are set for a makeover.

State officials have selected four sign designs by Nevada high school students to be finalists for consideration.

None of the finalist designs features symbols of the gaming industry, the backbone of Nevada's economy.

Read the whole story