

Truckee speeding up building permit process

Beginning May 9, Truckee will offer a program for residential projects to be construction-ready sooner and not have the back-and-forth of resubmittals.

The program will be known as One & Done Mondays. Any residential project is eligible when submitted. Once reviewed, that project may not be eligible based on the need for corrections.

The applicant can elect to schedule an appointment on a Monday with the Building and Planning divisions, have all the questions answered during the appointment, and the permit will be ready to issue. This program will allow for more efficiency.
