

Wagon train to make stop on South Shore

The annual wagon trail will roll through the South Shore on this weekend.

Now its 67th year, the re-creation of the wagons what went west to Placerville during the Gold Rush will stop at MontBleu in Stateline on Saturday.

On Sunday the procession will continue to Placerville, leaving the South Shore in the late morning.