

Number of active Nevada voters drops

By Sandra Chereb, Las Vegas Review-Journal

CARSON CITY – The number of active Nevada voters declined in August, with both parties registering losses due mainly to list maintenance, the secretary of state's office said Thursday.

Active voters declined by 11,876 in August compared with July.

“This decrease is primarily due to the routine list maintenance being carried out statewide, including active voters being moved to inactive status,” the secretary of state's office said.

Read the whole story