

Experts: Best holiday deals closer to Christmas

By Adam Candee, Las Vegas Sun

Setting up a tent and camping for days outside your favorite big-box retailer for those screaming Black Friday deals sounds like either an adventure or a nightmare.

For those tent-dwellers, experts have some bad news to share: the best holiday shopping values might pop up closer to Christmas this year.

“I think the discounts get larger as you get closer,” said Melina Cordero, head of retail research for the Americas at CBRE, during a conference call on holiday retail trends last week.
