

LTUSD calls another snow day

As the snow stops to fall on the South Shore, the Lake Tahoe Unified School District has decided to call another snow day more than 12 hours before the decision is usually made

No school on March 6. The district says it is because of the blizzard.