

Lichen study needs volunteers

Volunteers are needed for a lichen study in Great Basin National Park in Nevada.

The July 17-19 event is called Lichen BioBlitz.

There are more than 20,000 species of lichen in the world. The volunteers will learn about these organisms as they catalog them throughout the park.

For more info or to signup, go online.