

Bay Area petition targets Waze, Google Maps

By Judy Peterson, Bay Area News Group

A Los Gatos resident who is fed up with cut-through beach traffic has started a change.org petition that she plans to personally deliver to Waze and Google Maps officials, telling them they're "ruining" the quality of life in Los Gatos.

Debbie Moessinger launched the petition and spoke about gridlock on the east side of Los Gatos at the June 20 town council meeting. Moessinger estimated that portions of a 15-block area of streets were gridlocked from 11am to 2:30pm on June 17.

"We were unable to get out of our driveways, to get into our driveways," Moessinger said. "There were frustrated drivers weaving in and out of traffic. I witnessed many extreme safety issues with drivers."
