

Nevada ramping up apprenticeship programs

By Nicole Raz, Las Vegas Review-Journal

Equipped with new legislation, Nevada is ramping up its workforce training programs.

The Governor's Office of Workforce Innovation aims to boost the number of apprenticeship programs in the state by 10 percent within the next five years.

Nevada is a combined 200,000 jobs short of the national average in five of the state's emerging target industries.

Read the whole story