

Graffiti a growing problem at Donner Summit

The natural granite beauty at Donner Summit is being marred by graffiti.

It used to be that vandals limited their damage to inside the train tunnels. Not so many more.

Local residents are working with the U.S. Forest Service to clean up the mess.

Preventing the problem from reoccurring will be the harder endeavor.

– Lake Tahoe News staff report