

EDC man killed in Las Vegas mass shooting

By KCRA-TV

A Cameron Park man died and two of his family members were wounded Sunday night when a gunman opened fire at a crowd in a Las Vegas music festival, family members told KCRA 3.

Kurt Von
Tillow

Kurt Von Tillow, 55, died in the mass shooting. His sister was hit by shrapnel in the thigh and was treated at a local hospital, and his niece was shot in the ankle but had surgery today and is expected to recover. His wife and daughter, who were also with him, managed to escape unharmed.

His family members had to flee the venue and leave Kurt's body behind. A moment that was devastating for his wife, who had tried to revive him.

Read the whole story