

5 measures will be on 2018 ballot in Nevada

By Las Vegas Review-Journal

From bolstering protections for crime victims to eliminating taxes on tampons and medical supplies, Nevadans this year will vote on a slew of new measures.

Secretary of State Barbara Cegavske on Thursday released five questions facing voters in the November election.

Read the whole story