

Nev. gathering comments on funding low-income areas

By Nicole Raz, Las Vegas Review-Journal

The Governor's Office of Economic Development is accepting public comment on which areas throughout the state should be designated as Opportunity Zones.

The zones are low-income urban and rural areas where the federal government will provide tax incentives for private investment – by individuals or businesses – into Opportunity Funds.

Read the whole story