

Tribe stakes claim to parts of Tahoe ski resort, golf course

By Benjamin Spillman, Reno Gazette-Journal

An American Indian tribe with deep roots in the Lake Tahoe basin is seeking to reclaim land that's part of a Nevada resort area.

The Washoe Tribe of Nevada and California wants to ask Congress for nearly 375 acres of federal land in Incline Village.

The property includes land that's part of Diamond Peak Ski Resort and along fairways at Incline Village Championship Golf Course.

Read the whole story