

Algae bloom at Wright's Lake a concern

By Dawn Hodson, Mountain Democrat

Concerns over an algae bloom at Wright's Lake resulted in a call to the Central Valley Water Board to conduct water samples.

According to staff at the Eldorado National Forest, a member of the public visited the lake on June 28 and observed a subsurface algal bloom that appeared to extend throughout the lake.

Read the whole story