

NorCal athletes fill Tahoe celebrity golf roster

Steph Curry of the Warriors will be back next week at the American Century Championship. Photo Copyright 2017 Carolyn E. Wright

By Noel Harris, Sacramento Bee

Vince Carter may be the NBA's elder statesman, but he's out to prove that no one is ever too old to try something new.

The Kings swingman will get to show off his golf swing next week, when he participates in the American Century Championship for the first time.

Carter, 41, joins a field in the celebrity tournament that is loaded with athletes, actors and notable names. This year's event, the 29th annual, features several athletes with Northern California ties,

Read the whole story