

Ski report: Remember you aren't alone on the slopes

Another beautiful day to hit the slopes.

Advice to riders, though, to slow down and be safe.

Have a great day.

Here is the Nov. 24 ski report.

– Curtis Fong

Ski report: More terrain keeps opening up

Time to get out and ski off all those extra helpings of Thanksgiving dinner.

Mt. Rose, Boreal, Sugar Bowl and Northstar have top to bottom skiing.

Here is the Nov. 23 ski report.

– Curtis Fong

Ski report: Be thankful there's so much terrain to ski on

It should be an awesome day on the slopes.

More lifts and terrain are opening at resorts.

Happy Thanksgiving!

Here is the Nov. 22 ski report.

– Curtis Fong

Ski report: Wind a problem at resorts

Blustery doesn't even begin to describe what it's like outside.

Heavenly will start the day on wind hold.

Squaw Valley has Red Dog and Squaw Creek on wind hold.

Mt. Rose has Lakeview Lift and NW Magnum 6 on wind hold.

Here is the Nov. 21 ski report.

– Curtis Fong

Ski report: Wind will be a factor

Temperatures are expected to be in the 30s to 40s today. Wind will be the main thing to worry about.

Heavenly is starting on wind hold, so call the resort to know if the gondola is spinning.

Here is the Nov. 20 ski reportt.

– Curtis Fong

Ski report: Clouds will hang around

This weekend's storm added to the snowpack at all resorts. Thanksgiving is looking good.

Expect clouds today and temps in the 40s.

Here is the Nov. 19 ski report.

– Curtis Fong

Ski report: Stormy weather on the slopes

Dress in layers and make sure one of them is a waterproof jacket. It will be a mix of rain and snow today.

Wind will also be a factor. This means lift operations could be affected. Heavenly is starting the day on wind hold. Check the resort's website for updates.

Here is the Nov. 18 ski report.

– Curtis Fong

Ski report: Likely to be wet on the slopes

Add Sugar Bowl to the list of ski resorts in the Lake Tahoe area that are open.

Mammoth is reporting 8 inches of snow in the last day.

In Tahoe today, it's going to be a mix of rain and snow, so dress accordingly.

Here is the Nov. 17 ski report.

– Curtis Fong

Ski report: Squaw, Kirkwood

opening

Expect unsettled weather through the weekend.

Kirkwood and Squaw Valley open today.

Here is the Nov. 16 ski report.

– Curtis Fong

Ski report: No need for rock skis

I had a great day skiing Heavenly on Wednesday. Conditions are better than expected. Take your good skis.

Kirkwood and Squaw scheduled to open Friday and Sugar Bowl for the weekend.

Homewood's job fair is on Saturday.

Here is the Nov. 15 ski report.

– Curtis Fong