

Ski report: Happy St. Paddy's Day

Wear green and celebrate St. Patrick's Day on the slopes.

Here is the March 17 ski report.

– Curtis Fong

Ski report: Follow the sun

Get out early to enjoy the machine groomed corduroy, then follow the sun surfaces.

Here is the March 16 ski report.

– Curtis Fong

Ski report: Not many layers needed

Spring conditions prevail.

Here is the March 15 ski report.

– Curtis Fong

Ski report: Wax your skis, board

Follow the sun and wax your skis.

Here is the March 14 ski report.

– Curtis Fong

Ski report: Hot, hot, hot

Spring has arrived a bit early. Wear plenty of sunscreen and lip balm.

Here is the March 13ski report.

– Curtis Fong

Ski report: Drink lots of water

More warm weather is on tap. Stay hydrated.

Here is the March 12 ski report.

– Curtis Fong

Ski report: Don't ski out of bounds

More fresh powder and continued chance of snow showers throughout the day.

Wear good goggles – yellow or rose tinted.

Ski and ride with a buddy and stay in bounds on open runs and terrain only.

Here is the March 8 ski report

– Curtis Fong

Ski report: Big flakes falling

Get the fat skis out.

Here is the March 7 ski report.

– Curtis Fong

Ski report: Winter is back

Dress for winter conditions.

It is bound to take you longer to get to your resort of choice based on the snow still coming down, wind blowing and roads full of white stuff.

Some lifts are starting the day on wind hold.

Here is the March 6 ski report.

– Curtis Fong

Ski report: Get out before the storm hits

Clouds and wind will be increasing by late in the day.

Eight to 14 inches of snow are predicted to fall above 7,000 feet tonight, which means tomorrow could be a powder day.

Some lifts at Squaw are starting on wind hold.

Here is the Feb. 5 ski report.

– Curtis Fong