

Ski report: Snow at the resorts

Fresh snow on Tahoe's slopes and more coming this week.

Here is the March 4 ski report.

– Curtis Fong

Ski report: Lots of events

Mixed rain and snow at lake level, with light snow falling above 7,000 feet.

There is plenty to do today. The North Lake Tahoe Snowfest continues through March 10, today is the Polar Plunge for Special Olympics at the Hyatt Beach in Incline, the final run of the Rahlves' Bonzai Tour at Squaw and the 37th anniversary of Great Ski Race starting at Tahoe Cross Country.

Here is the March 3 ski report.

– Curtis Fong

Ski report: Storm headed to Tahoe

There will be a change in weather later today.

Come support Special Olympics. I'll be calling the play-by-play at the Special Olympics Celebrity Winterfest at Diamond Peak.

Here is the Feb. 2 ski report.

– Curtis Fong

Ski report: New month, same weather – sun

If you don't see Lake Tahoe News' ski reporter Curtis Fong on the ski slopes today, check him out at tonight's Dancing with Your Stars at 7 at MontBleu in Stateline.

Here is Fong's March 1 ski report.

Ski report: Finish February on the slopes

Last chance to ski in February.

Here is the Feb. 28 ski report.

– Curtis Fong

Ski report: Bring sunscreen

The sun is out and the mountains are calling.

Here is the Feb. 27 ski report.

– Curtis Fong

Ski report: Freeride like the pros

Don't miss the Swatch Freeride World Tour at Kirkwood on Wednesday.

Here is the Feb. 26 ski report.

– Curtis Fong

Ski report: Corduroy is calling

Time to go carve corduroy.

Here is the Feb. 25 ski report.

– Curtis Fong

Ski report: Possible wind issues

It's shaping up to be a good day on the mountain. However, wind could be a problem for some lifts.

Here is the Feb. 24 ski report.

– Curtis Fong

Ski report: Snow possible

Chance of snow today.

Here is the Feb. 23 ski report.

– Curtis Fong